

"Hey Boy" by Ben Strouse

When his parents tell him he isn't big enough to care for a shelter dog, a six-year-old boy begins his struggle to "grow up faster than anybody!"

Over the years, as the boy learns to take care of himself, he visits the shelter to dream about a future with his friend, until he finds the courage to redeem their years apart.