

Everything was silent in my mind.

It wasn't a peaceful silence.

It was the calm before the storm.

It was worry, desperation, and fear; all without words.