

“The modern world as we know it happened just moments ago. The human brain may be the most complex “thing” in the universe with almost 100 trillion neural connections but I do not believe it has yet been programmed with the proper “app” to handle the incredible complexity of our unconscious and conscious thoughts and emotions, each and every second of the day. Thousands of choices, decisions, thoughts of past, present, and imagined future are processed every minute of every day. I believe that most people on this planet are struggling to keep their emotional lives above water.”

PERSPECTIVE

...is the faculty of seeing all the relevant data in a meaningful relationship.

“Unthinking respect for authority is the greatest enemy of truth”

-Albert Einstein-

“By the skillful and sustained use of propaganda, one can make a people see even heaven as hell or an extremely wretched life as paradise.”

-Adolf Hitler-

“The answer to “what is the purpose of life” is a rather simple one from a biological and evolutionary point of view: The purpose of all life is to survive and reproduce. The purpose of life is to make more life. If we do not fulfill this purpose, there is only extinction. “What is the meaning of life?” Well, that’s a trick question. Let’s see what answer you come up with after you read through this work.”

“To live in the world without becoming aware of the meaning of the world is like wandering about in a great library without touching the books.”

-Albert Einstein-

“The history and evolution of the human race took place over 300,000 generations, or over three million years. The first geological discovery of ancient man was in Germany in August of 1856. It turned out to be the cap of a 40,000 year old skull from what is now called “Neanderthal man.”

“It was only a little more than 2,000 years ago that we believed the world was flat. It was not until the 16th century that we discovered the earth was not the center of the universe. That was only about 450 years ago! Before organized religion, and while religion took its roots in history, every cluster of humans along with their unique languages must have had their own questions and ideas about life.”

“Man's enemies are not demons, but human beings like him.”

-Lao-Tzu (604-531BC) Co-founder of Taoism-

Not once in the 20th century has one nation or a coalition of nations launched a military action to stop a genocide in progress.

"The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing"

-Attributed to various authors-

Disarm the Citizens

"Genocides of the 20th century had something in common. The "Stalinist Era" (USSR), "The Great Leap Forward" (China), "The Holocaust" (Nazi Germany), the "Killing Fields of Cambodia" the Ottoman Empire, Uganda, Guatemala, and others, were a disarming of the targeted citizens."

Domestic Violence

"The number of American troops killed in Afghanistan and Iraq between 2001 and 2012 was 6,488. The number of American women who were murdered by current or ex-male partners during that time was 11,766. That's nearly double the amount of casualties lost during war."

*"Two things are infinite: the universe and human stupidity;
and I'm not sure about the universe."*

-Albert Einstein-

Genetically Speaking

"I believe the reason why human nature may never change is the same reason chimpanzee behavior has not changed over the millions of years. We inherited the genes responsible for this aggressive behavior for survival and reproductive rights from our ancestors.

*"Chimp and human society possess an important feature in common, that of a strong propensity to kill their own kind. Human and chimpanzee society are the only species that execute a conscious, methodical, and deadly attack on their own kind. Chimps and humans are the only species able to figure out that the extra effort required to exterminate an opponent will bring about a more permanent solution than letting them live to fight another day."

The savagery of wars between modern states has produced unparalleled carnage. Yet the common impression that primitive peoples, by comparison, were peaceful and their occasional fighting of no serious consequence, is incorrect. Warfare between pre-state societies was incessant, merciless, and conducted with the general purpose of annihilating the opponent. As far as human nature is concerned, people of early societies seem to have been considerably more warlike than are people today."

* Nicholas Wade - "Before the Dawn"

"Truth is incontrovertible. Panic may resent it, ignorance may deride it, malice may distort it, but there it is."

-Winston Churchill-

"The mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation."

-Henry David Thoreau- (July 12, 1817 – May 6, 1862)

*"The question: "What would you do differently?"
is not only a foolish but a costly indulgence.
The useful question is... what will you do now?"*

-The Secret Knowledge: David Mamet-
