ABOUT LAST NIGHT

Location: Skyfalls, Three Miles Above Synchron City...

‘Welcome home, Master Scott,’ greeted the Rear Door of the Slhab in SkyFalls, as it scanned the retinas of Scott’s eyes. ‘I trust you have had the most educational of school days.’

‘Humph!’ grunted Scott, as the door unlocked, and slid silently to one side. He dropped his school jacket and bag, leaving them where they fell on the kitchen floor, and scuffed his shoes towards the refrigerator.

‘Welcome home, Master Scott,’ began the Refrigerator, until Scott gave another loud ‘Humph!’ and quickly pushed its silent button.

‘What’s with all the noise today?’ Scott frowned, pulling a carton of joose from the fridge. ‘Fermium’s shouts in Galaxography Class. Chairs screeching in the scranteen. The SkyBus banging and thumping – my head hurts.’

‘It probably has something to do with you being hit on the head with a spaceball in this morning’s gym class,’ replied Y.K, his words sounding in Scott’s head, and floating from his yellow T-shirt.

‘Hmm, y’think?’ pondered Scott, reaching a finger towards the lump under his hair. ‘Yow!’ he winced, before raising the joose carton to his mouth.

BELOW ZERO

Location: Sci-Hi 7, Synchron City...

‘Huph!’ Scott sighed – the groan lost amongst the morning roar of Sci-Hi Juves crammed into the SkyBus – and he looked up with disapproval at the looming shape of Sci-Hi 7 appearing in the mid-distance.

‘Yaaaawn!’ his mouth warped wide open.

He rubbed and stretched his face, rolled his eyes, and pushed fingers into their corners to dig away yellow globs of sleep.

‘It’s okay for you,’ he told the yellow glob on the end of his finger, ‘at home in bed, on chiropractor’s orders.’

He waited for the glob to answer back, but being only a glob and not a sentient being with morph-abilities, it remained silent.

Scott gave another loud sigh and squashed the sleep into the seat. ‘I’m soooooo bored,’ he sulked.

‘Scott!’ he heard a voice, and turned to look over the various sized alien heads.

‘Mia?!’ he called, looking up and down the SkyBus.

But it wasn’t Mia. And hearing the name again, it wasn’t him who was being called, but a kid called Blott.

GLOSSARY

Of The Scott Shot Yuniverse

A

Airphysh: Similar to the Astrophysh species of fish-like mammals found in the outer vacuum of the Yuniverse (and the opposite of fish-like mammals who live in the waters of Earth) the natural habitat of the Airphysh is the skies, which like birds build nests (mainly in the design of small castle-like structures). Largest of the Airphysh family is the Great Blue Über Swhale, while the tiniest is the Pathetic Yellow Blip.

Armoury: Soldier-Droid Legion of the Earth Army Corps.

Astroenteritis: A bowel condition that causes sufferers to uncontrollably levitate. A common disease amongst elderly citizens, along with Binandgontinance, Oldmania, and Paradigmentia.

B

Bellitian: From the moon satellite Bellissimon, orbiting the dead planet Beliss, Bellitians are commonly seen to have heads shaped like cones or buckets, but are more bell-like in nature. Bellitians communicate through a complex series of bell-chimes from a pendulum like uvula in their heads.

Bewilderment Gardens: Popular amongst the Sqich (squillionaire society) as both a status symbol and a deterrent for unwanted visitors to their palatial estates. Bewilderment Gardens grow a range of innocent-looking, but sensory-deceiving trees, fruit, vegetables and plants such as, Confuchsias, Dazies, and Chrazyanthemum, all sown and grown within a nutrient-sqich bed of turmoil.

ICE: Location: Synchron City...

Earth, a pseudo-island in the Mid-Atlantic Ocean, home to Humans, Aliens, Hybrids, Robots and Luck.

With Grand Science having conquered the Law of Fortuity, good luck (or Gluk) is sold through downloadable credit to release quantities of Happy Happenstance and Cheerful Chance.

A visitor to these floating streets will meet Robo-Police, Celebrity Aliens, Crazy Crazes and Mutant Mayhem; shop at the transdimensional Halo-Mall; talk with electro-ghosts of the famous in Spectral Park; and watch the latest Shok Bands at the Bizarre Bazaar Lounge.

ICE: Identity: Scott Shot...

Fourteen going on forty who, in a world that revolves around Gluk, is the unluckiest being in the Yuniverse, that no amount of Luki-Chips can change. As a magnet for bad luck (Bluk) Scott counteracts this force of negativity with a PosiTron device that dampens the high degree of Bluk energy to normal levels. But when Scott forgets to charge up the PosiTron, misplaces it, or when it malfunctions at times of high atmospheric Bluk counts, Scott finds himself in trouble in Synchron City, or transported across the Yuniverse - in a serious state of Madventure.
