

What kind of place is this? Did my parents know it would be this way? Wars? People's sons getting killed? People we know? Grieving parents secluding themselves in blackened hotel rooms, refusing to come out, to talk, army guns falling over breakfast trays, propped like fern branches in the corners, in the gloom?