

LAKE

A Loony Winnepesaukee Duck Tale

by
Bridget Finnegan

Hmmmm. Poke, doesn't it seem like there are much more Canada geese arriving this year?
I don't remember there being so many last spring.

Stop trying to interest me in stuff when I am napping.

What's happening!?!

Yikes!
Run! I mean FLY!

DIVE! We're better swimmers than the geese.

Why are they chasing everyone?

Let's sneak back to see what's going on.

Bowell Thomas returning with BREAKING NEWS.

DATELINE NEW HAMPSHIRE!

The Governor's Island estate of Grand Duchess
Ilvana Moodolovich, formerly of St. Petersburg,
Russia, has been robbed.

The prime suspect?

The Grand Duchess' own companion and pet,
HILDEGARD THE SWAN!

Among the stolen goods:
two trinkets created for the Grand Duchess by Carl Fabergé, the famous jeweler to the Czar; a sapphire brooch and the famous "Milfoil Egg."
The value? Priceless.

Hildegard is a misunderstood delicate flower. Please return her to my loving arms.

Onward!
Bowell Thomas
signing off.

The Canada geese have taken over the island and are lining up the local resident birds.

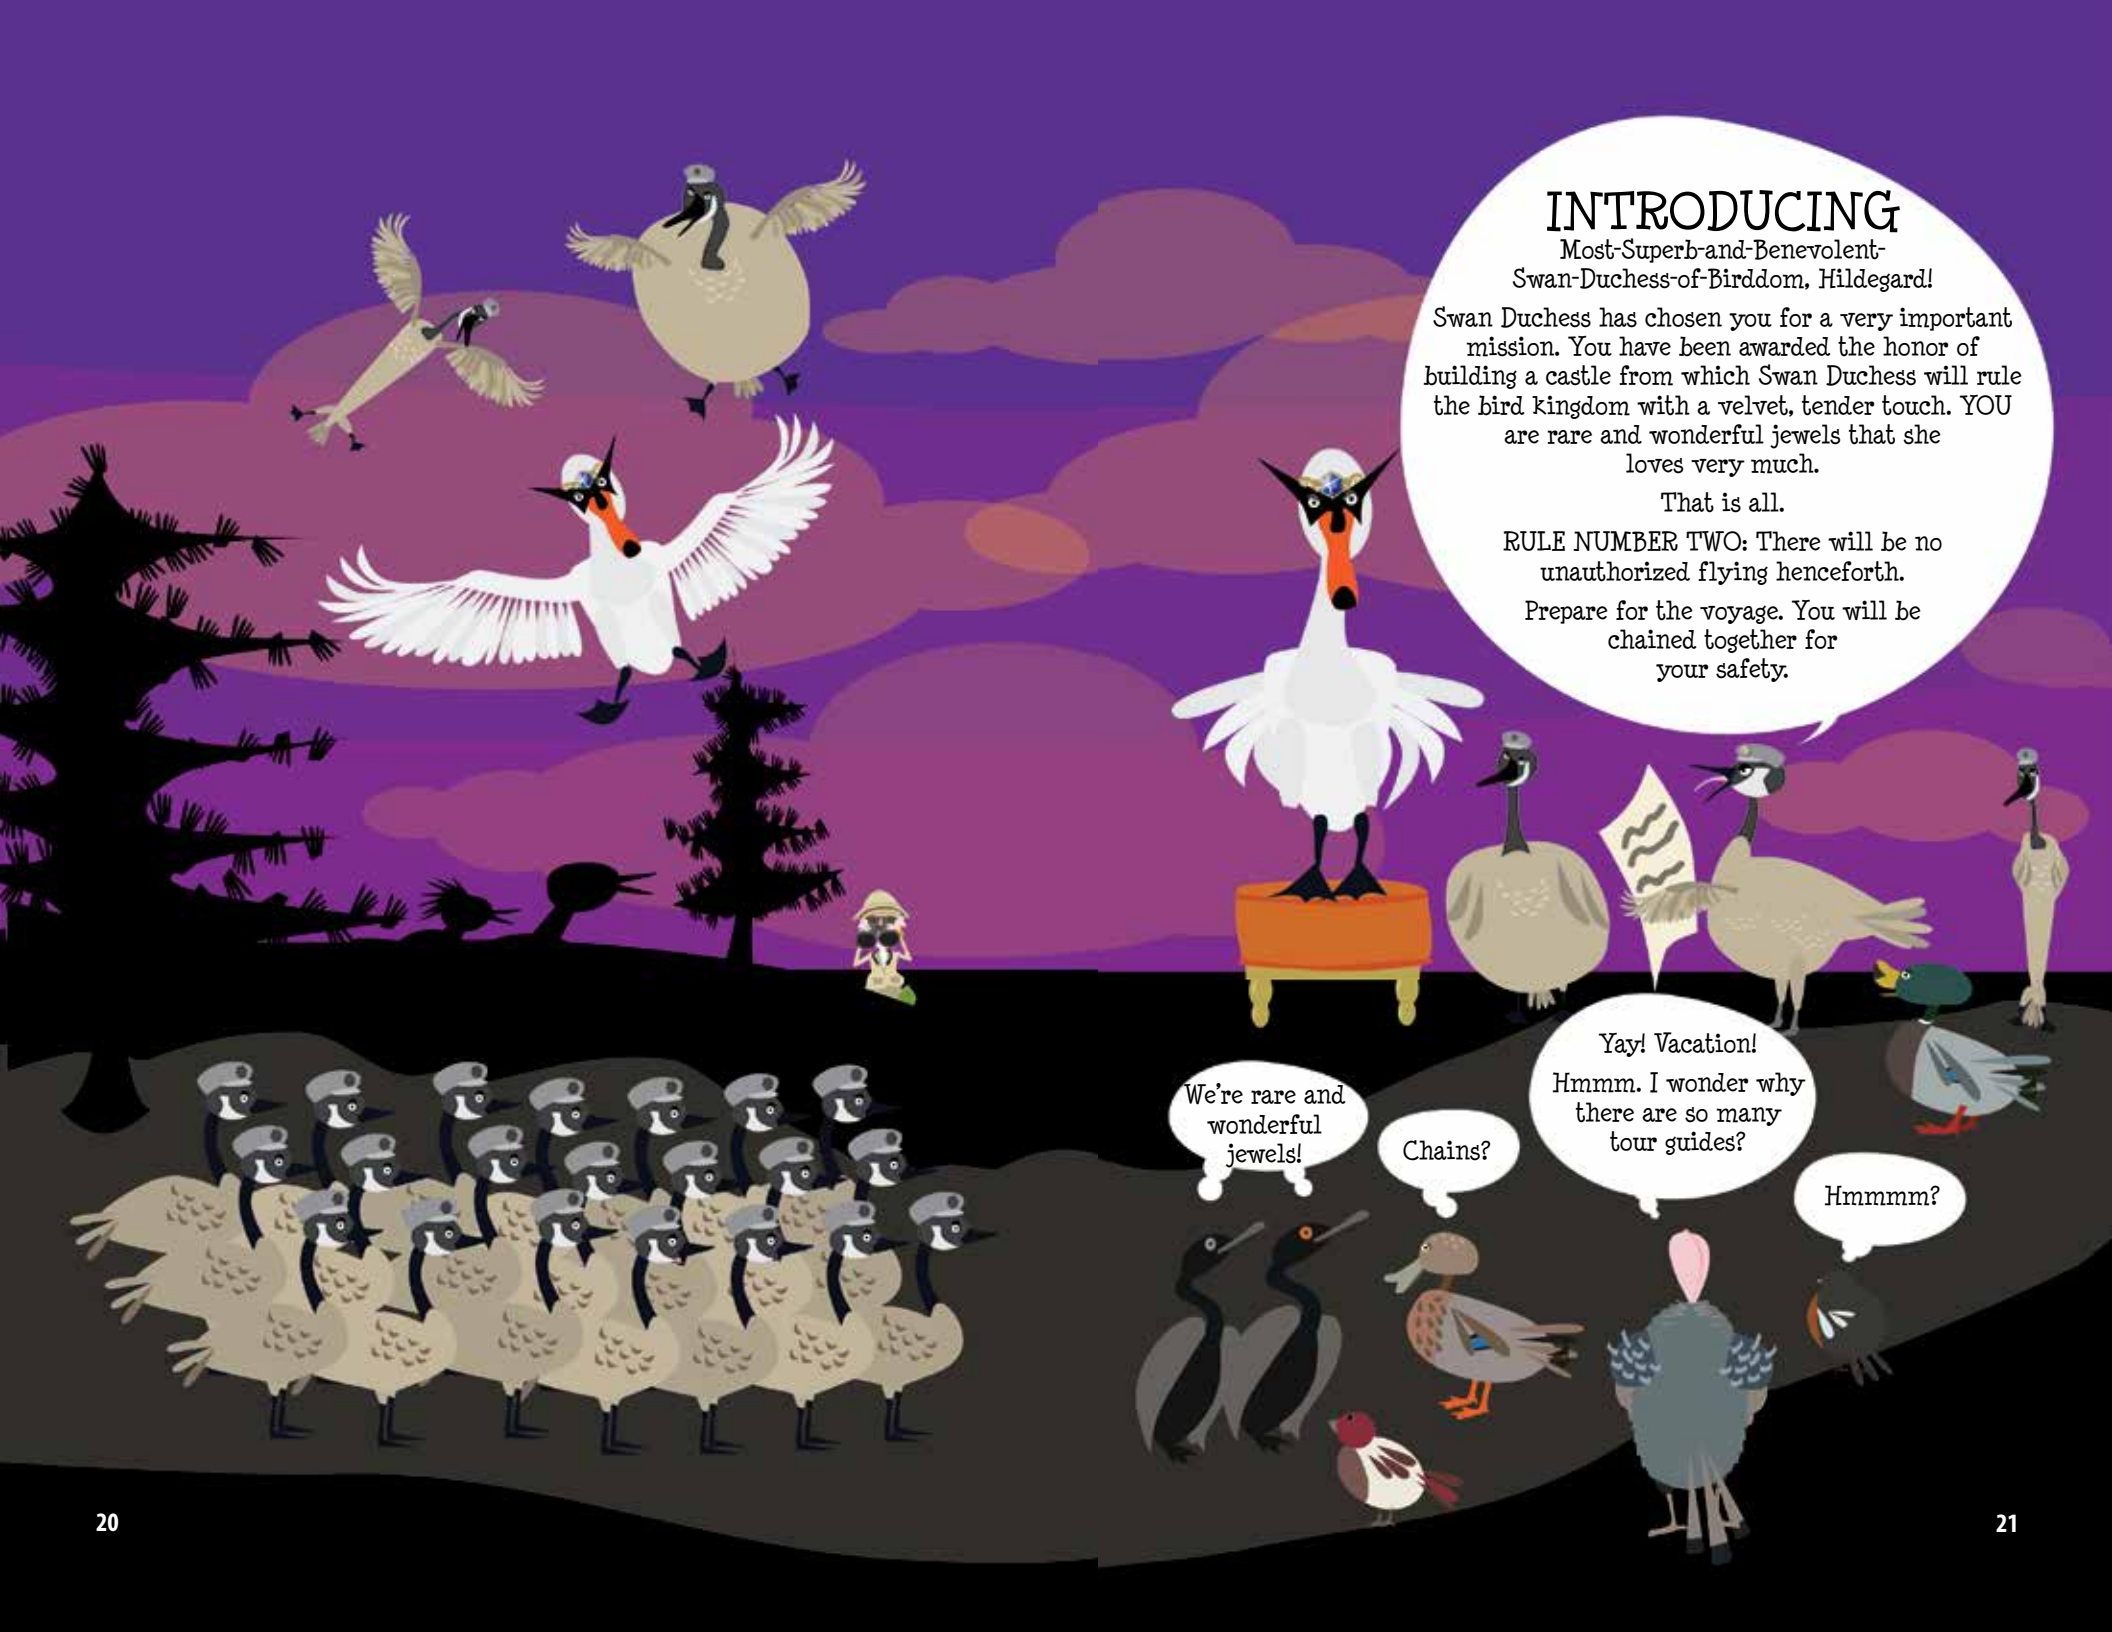

What the chickens is going on, Poke?

Hmmm, maybe...

Looks like some kind of a good posture club.

Yay! Vacation!
Hmmm. I wonder why there are so many tour guides?

Hmmmm?

As the residents of Ragged Island begin their voyage, the Swan Duchess speaks to her troops.

I now introduce you to the weapon that will change everything and ensure my...er...OUR rise to power.

THE MILFOIL EGG!

The most beautiful object ever created. With it I...I...mean...WE...will achieve world domination.

...or at least domination here on Lake Winnepesaukee.

The Milfoil Egg

In 1905 famous jeweler, Carl Fabergé created the Milfoil Egg for Ilvana Moodolovich, second-cousin-once-removed to Czar Nicholas II of Russia. During the Russian revolution, Ilvana escaped and took the egg with her to Bavaria and then later to New Hampshire.

Ilvana loved the natural beauty of the milfoil and had Fabergé preserve it in water in the specially designed crystal egg.

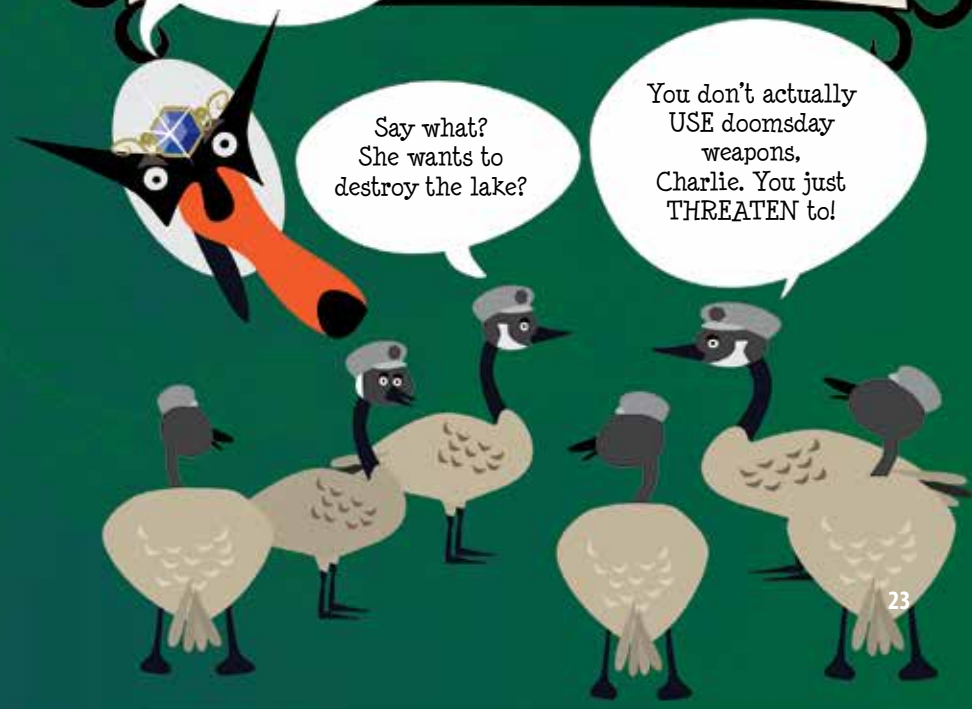

You see, Fabergé created the most superb doomsday weapon of all time...by mistake!

And now it is MINE!!!

...I mean ours!

What Fabergé didn't realize is that milfoil, outside of its natural habitat in Russia, grows at a hyper-rapid rate choking the life out of ponds and lakes. Nothing can stop it once it settles in.

Say what? She wants to destroy the lake?

You don't actually USE doomsday weapons, Charlie. You just THREATEN to!

Poke and Dawdle fade into the darkness by Cow Island.

Four birds reach deep inside themselves to combat the biggest threat to Lake Winnepesaukee since the "Squam Lake Incident" of 1934.
