

At breakfast, Felix and his sister Maya were talking.

I have to go to Dr. Bones' office. I need a vaccine.

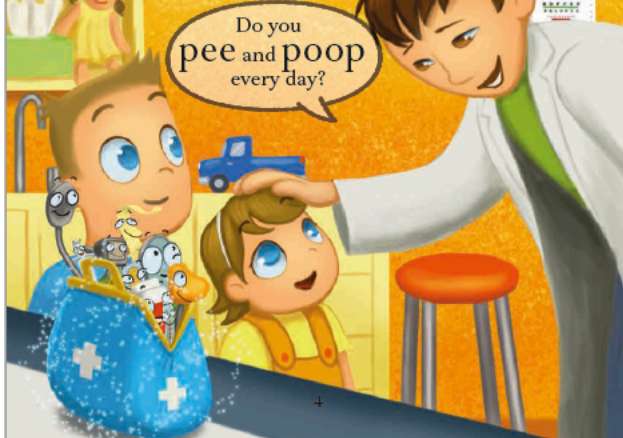

"Lucky you. You'll get a beautiful sticker afterwards!" replied Felix.

"Yes, but I'm afraid of needles. The vaccine could make me sick and then I couldn't play with you," she added.

To reassure her, Felix went to get his magical doctor's bag. "Booboo! Wake up! We have to go to the doctor's office with Maya."

Upon arrival at the doctor's office, Felix placed his magical doctor's bag on the examination table. All the instruments stretched their heads out of the bag just in time to hear Dr. Bones' funny questions such as,

Do you pee and poop every day?

Booboo said to Dr. Bones, "Hello, my name is Booboo."

Wow! I can't believe it. You're a talking instrument.

I'm magical, too.
