

Felix and his friend Charles were swinging in the park.

Charles was swinging very fast and very high.

Charles lost control and flew into the air before landing in the sandbox. "Help! Charles fell and hurt himself," screamed Toc. Crying and muttering, Charles said,

My arm is crooked, and it hurts!

Lens examined Charles' arm and said, "Booboo, Charles has a broken arm." "I'm calling 911. You need to go to the hospital," said Felix.

Felix is right. Don't move at all. Help is on the way.

Leaning over Charles, Toc was about to give him juice, but Pill quickly stopped him. "Charles must not drink until he has seen the doctor," explained Pill. To relieve Charles' pain, he magically turned himself into an ice pack to put on the boy's arm.
