When you were in my belly,
we counted down the days
until we could meet you.

We used each day to plan and prepare for life with you.

We read the meaning of each name, looking for one that meant something special.

When you were in my belly, we looked through stacks of baby books to search for your name.

When you were in my belly, we imagined a world where you would be safe, happy, and healthy.

We marched for a better future for you.
