

Brody asked questions, one after the next:

Will I have fun? Will it be best?

Will I see Monkey? What about Bear?

Do you think Snake and Hip will be there?

Yes, little Brody, don't worry so much.

Your friends will be there, don't make such a fuss.

I know you can do it, you're my little man.

Then Mama heard from the back of the van:

I can do it, yes I can,
I can do it, Brody can!
