The forest, which were getting closer to the golden tree, the forest of golden leaves. The forest was filled with golden leaves and they formed the golden forest. Making their way through the forest, they were surrounded by golden leaves that shone brightly and glittered under the sun.

The forest soon disappeared, the golden leaves had grown and surrounded the golden tree. The forest, which was now closer to the golden tree, was filled with golden leaves that shone brightly and glittered under the sun.