

Nature is about how living things live with nonliving things on earth.

It includes the sun, moon, stars, plants, animals, and other things like clouds, rain, pond, stream, and river which empties into the ocean.

Human beings use their five senses to see, hear, feel and move while staying with other living and nonliving things.

