REVIEWS

“This story is absolutely beautiful. I want to jump into the pages and immerse myself inside. The illustrations bring to life the nature magic of our world and reminds us to appreciate it before its gone”
– Dr. Mark Espitia, Father of 3

“What a touching story. The ending is unexpected yet powerful. Trees are a majestic part of our world and Dee showcases that in this beautiful story. With books like these we have a chance of changing global warming and the future of our planet”
– Mary Sampson, Grade 3 Educator for 20 years

“As a director and advisor of many preschools and early childcare centers, I love finding stories that remind children to get outside and play, that our natural world is just as magical as what can be found on screens. In a world that is increasingly disconnected from the physical world this story reminds us to get outside and play. It reminds us animals and all the living things in our world are part of our experience, not just outside.”
– Cecile T. M.Ed. Director, Consultant

ENDORSEMENTS

“As a parent, educator, and literacy specialist, I always search for well-written children’s books that are both entertaining and engaging while, at the same time, teach significant life lessons. That’s why I fell in love with Jodi Dee’s stories and wanted to use them in my trainings.”
– Dr. Carol Tolman - Co-Author of LETRS® (Language Essentials for Teachers of Reading and Spelling), Literacy Consultant, and lover of language

In 2020. Jodi’s stories were licensed by renowned literacy experts Dr. Louisa Moats and Dr. Carol Tolman, LETRS® to use in literacy trainings worldwide.

Will you sit with us?

They are busy, Grown One. They use machines to move and do things faster.

They are busy Small One. They work to hunt and gather.

But they have hunted and gathered.
They have found community.
They have built shelters for comfort.
They have built roads to connect to others.
They have fought for freedom.
They have mass produced food for sustenance.
Now they use machines to move and do things faster.

When will they sit with us?
They are too busy Alone One.

Will you sit with us?

"Mommy, what is that?"

"That is a tree. There used to be millions of them. Most are now extinct. There are only a few left, that is one of them."
