INTRODUCTION

It is time that everyone on Planet Earth faces reality.

“The earth is the Lord's, and everything in it, the world, and all who live in it: for He founded it on the seas and established it on the waters.” (Psalm 24:1-2)

The Earth does not belong to us. It belongs to God and we are only the tenants. Our purpose and duty to our Creator is to take care of what He has blessed us with.

Through the Earth, God provides us with fresh water, food, and oxygen.

Humans, animals, and other species, on these vital necessities depend.

Our forests, rivers, oceans, and soils provide us with what we need to survive.

We need them for numerous other goods and services in our lives.

One of the biggest environmental challenges right now is Climate Change and its effects on human and animal life. The Earth's Climate is constantly changing. Human activities including air pollution and water pollution have introduced a new era called Global Warming. The current warming trend is of particular significance because most of it is very likely due to human activities.

Many people do not understand the importance of recycling and continue to use single-use plastic water bottles. They think that if they use one single-use plastic water bottle, straw, or cup a day, it is not going to affect our environment. The plastic pollution issues are growing exponentially every year as we are producing more than 300 million tons of plastic.

Most of the plastics used are single-use which ends up in our oceans. Plastics are not our body's best friend. We should stop the flow of plastics now.

A second issue affecting the planet is war. Not only can war be destructive to the social environment, but military activities produce extensive amounts of greenhouse gases that contribute to anthropogenic climate change, and pollution, and cause resource depletion, among other environmental impacts.

On October 11th, 2024 the Nobel Peace Prize was awarded to a grassroots movement of Japanese atomic bomb survivors for its campaign to eliminate nuclear weapons, and we applaud the Nobel Prize Committee for doing so. Nuclear weapons have great destructive power. They can kill millions and would impact the climate catastrophically. A nuclear war could destroy our civilization. We must start campaigns for peace on earth.

Thirdly, violence, abuse, kidnapping, murder, and human trafficking are severe problems in the world today. People with a penchant for controlling and exerting power over others have serious mental issues that start in the home.

Parents have a responsibility to raise their children in the right way and cannot depend on schools alone to do so. Bullying in schools by abusive students has resulted in suicides by innocent victims.

“Blessed are the families that delight in the Word of God and meditate on it day and night.” As God’s children, love for our brothers and sisters regardless of ethnic or other differences should prevail in our lives.

The poems in ‘Save God’s Earth’ highlight the problems we face with respect to Climate Change, Peace, Love, and Humanity. We hope that Leaders of Governments and every individual on the planet will read them.

The poems are easy to read and provide valuable information on how to protect our lives and the environment, consequences of not doing so, and to save God’s earth from extinction.

“Save God’s Earth,’ will be an asset in your library for all generations.

I thank all those who reviewed my poems, and the guest author for lovely contributions.

EARTH NEEDS OUR HELP

Despite vast improvements in the quality of life in the nations,

Fluctuations in global temperature and weather conditions are transforming ecosystems.

Earth struggles to keep up with the increased demand for natural resources.

Climate change affects all and we must bear the consequences.

We must first understand climate change before we can control it.

Climate is not the same as weather but they are both related.

Climate determines temperatures and meteorological phenomena.

Due to this relationship, we face weather extremes and more disasters.

Humankind keeps cutting down and burning tropical rainforests.

This is done for the construction of buildings and agricultural purposes.

Deforestation impacts the global climate, as forests cool the earth's surface.

Tropical rainforests are necessary to prevent global warming.

Burning fossil fuels for electricity, heat, industry and transportation;

Deforestation, overuse of chemical fertilizers; and industrial animal production,

All increase the concentration of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere,

Climate change is directly linked to these emissions generated by humans.

Humankind is affected negatively because of the above actions.

Rising temperatures, declining rainfall with sudden intense bursts,

Rises in sea levels, massive floods, landslides, heat waves, and drought,

Cause extreme reactions and impact social and economic systems.

STOP FLOW OF PLASTIC WASTE

We must teach our children the dangers of plastic on the planet.

The beaches are littered with plastic because of careless habits.

It is time to change how we produce, consume, and dispose of garbage.

Avoid severe environmental, social, economic, and health consequences.

Around the world, one million plastic bottles are purchased every minute.

Up to five trillion plastic bags are used worldwide every year.

Half of all plastic produced is used just once and discarded.

Plastics including microplastics are now everywhere in our environment.

From the 1950s to the 1970s, only a small amount of plastic was produced.

Plastic waste was relatively manageable but production has now more than tripled.

The world produces about 400 million tonnes of plastic waste every year.

36 percent of all plastics are used in packaging, and 85 percent end up in landfills.

Water bottles, dispensing containers, biscuit trays, shampoo bottles, milk bottles,

Freezer bags, food packaging film, Potato chip bags, microwave dishes, plastic cups,

Ice cream tubs, bottle caps, single-use face masks, cutlery, plates, and cigarette butts.

Systemic change is needed to stop the flow of plastic waste in the environment.
